Selectmen's Meeting

CONGRATULATIONS TO ROCHESTER

As a first order of business, Mattapoisett Selectmen unanimously agreed to write the Rochester Board of Selectmen in thanks for their hospitality and a wonderful parade excellently organized and enjoyed by spectators and participants alike.

SKIFF SPACE RULES

Selectmen held a discussion with Al Pauline who they appointed to fill the unexpired term of Wharf Commissioner vacated by the resignation of Louis Costa. Acting upon Mr. Pauline's recommendation they appointed Benjamin Gross as Deputy Shellfish Constable to assist Pauline who is now serving also as Shellfish Warden until the election of April, 1980.

The Selectmen decided that when a space becomes available for a skiff it should be offered to the person at the top of the waiting list. If refused, it would be offered to the next in line. The person at the top of the list would then be offered the next spot that become available and could also refuse that. Should the third offer be refused, the person's name would be removed from the top of the list and he would have to reapply. Once a boat-owner gains a slip he retains it as long as he maintains a boat in the spot.

SPORTS COMMITTEE

Dr. William Quinlan and Director David Haley met with Selectmen to discuss the sports program. Dr. Quinlan said that he feels that this is a good time to step out of the Sports Committee since it is a period between sports programs. He said that he is resigning to allow new people to participate but will gladly serve in an advisory capacity to the new members. It was decided to have seven voting members of the Sports Committee, and these new committee members were appointed: Frank O'Neill, Paul Levine, Jeff Riley and Marilyn Lee. They will join the present members: Faith Glennon, Raymond Cabral and William Fairweather on the committee.

SEWER LINE TIE-IN

Selectmen approved the application of Jack Wileczja, the builder of a new home to be located on Pepperbush Lane to tie into the sewer line at his own expense according to engineering and specifications as required by the town subject to the same charges and rules as any other sewer user. The Selectmen stated that this hook-up is adjacent to the line and should be included.

The Selectmen received a request from Salvatore Dattilo to tie into the pressurized sewer line along the railroad bed. They refused this request because the town has contracted for a limited amount of flow and they feel that established areas of the village should be the first to be served by any extension.

The persons will have to petition the Board of Selectmen acting as the Sewer Commissioners for this privilege.

UNDERGROUND INSTALLATION

Selectmen approved the installation of 2 underground gasoline tanks of 2000 gallon capacity each on the property of John W. Folino at Industrial Park.

DENY 2 A.M. CLOSING

Selectmen denied a request for weekend 2 A.M. closing time from King of the Road which offered to close 2 other nights a week in return.

Tobey Hospital

JOINED MEDICAL STAFF AT TOBEY

In the summer of 1975, four fourth year medical students, all from schools in North Carolina, came to Tobey Hospital to study under the preceptorship of three staff physicians. At that time, Tobey Hospital anticipated that some of these young men, having been introduced to medical specialties as practiced in a community hospital, would one day settle in this area.

Today, Tobey Hospital is pleased to announce that David Stroud, M.D., one of the four, has joined the Tobey Hospital Medical Staff. With offices at the Tobey Medical Center on Main Street, Wareham, and at 8 Water Street, Mattapoisett, he is associated with Dr. Thomas V. Geagan, While an undergraduate, Dr. Stroud worked summers in the Tobey Hospital pharmacy, and, in the summer of 1973, served as Tobey's pharmacist.

After graduating from medical school, he completed both a medical internship and a residency in internal medicine at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Boston.

Married to the former Ashleyn Peterson of Mattapoisett, Dr. Stroud now resides in that town with his wife and three daughters: Heather, age 3 who was born at Tobey Hospital in 1976, and twins, Stephanie and Suzanne, 9 months.

Jeff Connor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Connor of Mattapoisett, enjoys his third year as an Easter Seal camper. He attended Warren Center in Ashland, Mass. for two weeks through the Massachusetts Easter Seal Society's Camping Program. The Camp is owned by Northeastern University with a special Easter Seal unit for physically disabled youth. The unit is maintained by a camp director, nurse, a physician on call, and trained rehabilitation counselors. One of the exciting aspects of Warren Center is that normal youngsters also attend the camp. As often as possible, the physically disabled children are integrated with the able-bodied in camp activities and on field trips. Local organizations that contributed "Vanities"

Vanities, one of the most successful intimate plays of the past ten years, will be presented by the Southeastern Massachusetts University Theatre Company and the SMU Repertory Company on August 9, 10, 11 and 12 at 8:30 P.M. in the SMU Campus Center.

It is still playing off Broadway, as it has for the last three years, and shows no sign of coming to an end.

"Its combination of incisive, satirical comedy with revealing drama has made it popular with audiences everywhere," says director Angus Bailey.

"The staging tricks that it employs are sure-fire theatre, even though they are used in a relatively small area. Vanities is a small wonder which is bound to be as popular at SMU as it has been everywhere else."

In the cast are Kathy Fontera, Martha Kearns, and Kathy Whalley.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling the SMU Theatre Company at 999-8697.

MADONNA WEEPS OVER BROKEN HANDS

Late in the evening of June 26, 1979, a statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary was taken from its pedestal and placed in the center of Aucoot Road. In the process of being moved, flowers were trampled and both hands of the statue were broken. Further damage to the statue was averted when a driver was able to take evasive action and stop his vehicle in time. The Madonna had been the most cherished possession of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Andrews. As such, in addition to its religious aspects, it occupies a very special place in the hearts of their children and grandchildren.

It is with a deep hurt and anger that the family attempts to place this senseless act of vandalism into proper perspective. Such an act could only have been perpetrated by individuals who are lacking in morals, respect, and discipline. Perhaps of even greater importance and concern is the path justice will take. If a youth from Aucoot Road had vandalized property in Hollywoods, Point Connett, Marion, or even Middleborough, the sword of justice would

CRANBERRY QUILT PATCH CONTEST

The Plymouth County Extension Service announces that the Second Annual National Cranberry Quilt Patch Contest will be held in conjunction with the 1979 Massachusetts Cranberry Festival. The Cranberry Festival will once again take place at the Edaville Railroad, Carver, on two consecutive weekends of September 29, 30 and October 6, 7 and 8.

The quilt patch contest is open to anyone wishing to enter, with the 1979 theme being the harvesting of North America's exclusive crop. A quilt patch representing the tools and techniques used, either from yesteryear or from the present, to gather in the berries, to sort and screen them, readying them for use throughout the coming year, is the type of specimen being sought.

Rules for the contest are quite simple. The entries must be exactly 15 inches square plus seam allowances, pieced, embroidered or appliqued techniques only, of cotton or cotton blend fabric. Entries and questions should be addressed to the attention of: Mrs. Nancy Mott, c/o 1979 Cranberry Festival & 4-H Fair, South Meadow Road, RFD #5, Carver Mass. 02330, by September 1, 1979. All patches must have the name and address written or embroidered on muslin and secured to the back of the item.

The prizes include $100.00 for the first prize and fourteen runner-up prizes of $20.00 each. All entries will become the property of the contest and will be displayed at this year's Cranberry Festival and 4-H Fair.

The patches will then be sewn into a completed, large quilt which will be available for loan early in 1980.

Anyone with a talent for stitchery, an imaginative design, and a "berry" big interest in earning $100.00 in prize money is encouraged to try their hand at making a cranberry quilt patch!

a wide spectrum of creative output by an unusually large number of artists. These range from oils, acrylics and watercolors to mixed media efforts and graphics. Diversity and variety are the themes of the month-long show which opened August 1st.

Several of the artists, including Douglas C. Orr, Louise Kalish, Liz Crosby and Margaret Dillon, have exhibited at dozens of leading national and regional galleries. Their works are also represented in important private and public collections. Many are currently instructors at the South Shore Arts Center, a leading New England art education complex.

After viewing the art exhibition at admission-free Cranberry World, gallery-goers can follow the social and agricultural history of the cranberry from pre-colonial days to the present. Elaborate displays include both period and contemporary artifacts, photo montages, sight-and-sound shows, a diorama of a working cranberry farm and three authentic cranberry mini-bogs that surround the Center.

Cranberry World also offers visitors free cranberry recipes and refreshments, souvenir pins, and daily cooking demonstrations. A typical tour of the building takes approximately 30 minutes. The museum is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.
